Hello to all,

I am Fluffy Bunny, a girl on the go, socialite, and playful blogger. I am truly the modern day Martha Stewart meets Playboy Bunny.

Originally from the northeast where I loved the typical New England life. A few private schools, English riding lessons, summers on The Cape, Newport and Nantucket, mixing nicely with a touch of NYC and Palm Beach.

It was truly the beauty and splendor of Palm Beach that found me moving there. As a stylish, girl next door Palm Beach is the perfect place to do what I do best! Bringing my talents that include and addition to being a model, an event and floral designer, a dabbler in real estate, the ultimate tablescaper and uber holiday decorator.

This approachable girl who has enjoyed years of jet setting, champagne tasting and lets not forget sunbathing on yachts. Not too shabby right? Lucky me!

Being a fluffy bunny I inspire to beautify all that surrounds me or as I like to say Fluffarize, from beauty within to fashion and art mixed with the passion of glamor the love of animals and flowers I believe in adding flair and finesse to making every ordinary into everyday extraordinary!!!
